

VALUED RELATIONSHIPS

Clients choose U.S. Veterans Construction & Management Corp., because of our ability to provide all the necessary services in-house, eliminating the need for multiple consultants. We believe that strong and positive relationships with our subcontractor partners are essential to achieving our mutual goals of performance excellence, customer satisfaction, and profitable operations. Our Subcontractor relationships are built on mutual trust, respect and cooperation.

We polled many of our valued subcontractors to determine what was important to them in maintaining a strong and positive relationship with U.S Veterans Construction & Management, Corp. We also asked our internal Estimating, Project Management, and Accounting departments what constitutes a positive subcontractor relationship, and the answer is simple, TEAM WORK.

We have assembled a team that is dedicated, competitive, and result driven. Because our customers are important to us, we screen our subcontractors to be sure they fit the standard of excellence we strive for here at U.S. Veterans Construction & Management Corp.

All of our Subcontractors are closely monitored for quality performance, and their progress is examined through weekly progress meetings, safety talks, and weekly progress reports with our Project Managers and Supervisors. Communication with our subcontractors is key, and all communications are documented via e-mail or fax and distributed to all the necessary staff at U.S. Veterans Construction & Management Corp., which is handling that particular project. This system has been implemented to keep everyone up to date on all tasks at hand.
